It has been a fun-packed week at Collingwood with the beginning of festivities as December arrives. We had another sports fixture on Tuesday as we sent a team to compete in the ILG Touch Rugby festival. Even though our team had limited experience in this format, they adapted quickly, competed brilliantly and attained 3rd place!

Our younger year groups were treated to a visiting pantomime production of 'Goldilocks', which has begun a week of performances at school. Year 3 children were given the opportunity to show their mini Christmas drama yesterday. I know that robins and reindeer are familiar Christmas animals, but I had never known that spiders could be too! After school, families of the Drama Club were treated to our own version of 'Elf'. It was packed with festive hit songs for us to clap along to and the children looked and sounded fantastic.

Over both afternoons, we have also had the KS1 productions of 'One Sheep's Story'. It was a lovely take on the Christmas story and again, there was some impressive acting, super singing and dazzling costumes. Huge thanks must go to Miss Andrews for all the musical preparation and of course, Miss Cathie, who has masterminded all the productions this term. She has worked tirelessly and come up trumps yet again! We must not forget our Nursery Nativity either. The whole set looked stunning (artwork of Miss Lawrence), the children were amazing and I know that the parents who came to see it this morning were given a real treat. They must have been very proud.

We have our PSA Winterfest running tomorrow from 12pm. Many parents are helping with this, but we would like to see as many families and friends of Collingwood as possible coming along to this great annual event. Also next Thursday is our Carol Concert at 4.30pm in Holy Trinity Church. It is expected that all children attend this special event as all are participating in some way. We can't wait!
